BUILDING PATHWAYS TO RESILIENCY

2019 ANNUAL REPORT
A LETTER FROM OUR BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Never did Tom and I dream that we would be sending you The Parmenter Foundation’s 2019 Annual Report in the midst of a world pandemic crisis as a result of COVID-19. This reminder of how unforeseen circumstances can change our world instantly is sobering, creating additional needs for the most vulnerable in our MetroWest communities. The Foundation is currently assessing those needs and how our organization can be a catalyst for HOPE.

During 2019, The Parmenter Foundation focused our charitable giving in three areas and awarded more than $350,000 in grants, with the goal of identifying innovative and compelling opportunities that improve the health and well-being of our community:

- Healthcare and Hospice Services including grantees such as the Miriam Boyd Parlin Hospice Residence, MetroWest Free Medical Program and Behavioral Partners of MetroWest
- Children’s Programs including grantees such as Camp Erin®, Boston, HEARTplay, and Camp Casco
- Community Support including grantees such as the Parmenter Food Pantry, Family Promise Metrowest and Why Me, Inc.

The Parmenter Foundation relies solely on private support, and we are so grateful to our donors who continued their giving as well as new donors who came on board during 2019. You inspire all who are involved with this organization! Without your support, we simply cannot sustain all our programs and initiatives. Be assured that 100% of all donations received are earmarked for grants to MetroWest nonprofit organizations that deliver high quality programs with a strong volunteer component.

Despite the current crisis, The Parmenter Foundation looks forward to the coming year to focus on executing our mission, growing our community of support, initiating innovative programming that answers community needs as well as inspiring volunteerism all around us. Be safe, be well and be assured that lessons will be learned from COVID-19 that will benefit all of us.

GRIEVING CHILDREN’S INITIATIVE

On November 15, 2018, the first Children’s Care Packs were ready to be gifted to children visiting a loved one at the Miriam Boyd Parlin Hospice Residence in Wayland. Since that time, over 55 care packs filled with age-appropriate grief guidebooks, toys, message writing materials and other items to help children express their feelings have been distributed. Gail-Ann Simon, the Children’s Care Pack creator, is a longtime hospice and children’s bereavement volunteer. She has given careful thought to ensure that the care packs provide the right balance of comfort, guidance and diversion during a difficult time. To support this children’s grief project, Gail-Ann’s three children started the Children’s Care Pack fund at The Parmenter Foundation. Please join us in providing a measure of comfort to grieving young people by giving to the Children’s Care Pack Fund at www.parmenterfoundation.org/donate.
The Parmenter Foundation, a 501(c)(3) non-profit, relies solely on private support and does not receive any city, state or federal funding. In 2019, we raised more than $370,000 from individuals, family foundations and corporations.

Community Advocacy: $48,199 (15%)
- Family Promise Metrowest supporting families to overcome homelessness.
- Parmenter Food Pantry supporting the provision of over 5,000 meals per year for Wayland residents in need.
- Why Me, Inc. supporting a grassroots nonprofit organization providing support services to families experiencing childhood cancer.

Children’s Programs: $185,000 (56%)
- Camp Casco supporting a week-long day camp and a week-long overnight camp for childhood cancer patients and survivors at no cost to their families.
- Camp Erin® Boston supporting a children’s bereavement summer camp provided at no cost to their families.
- HEARTplay supporting an award-winning creative arts grief program for children, teens and young adults.

Healthcare and Hospice: $96,913 (29%)
- Behavioral Health Partners of MetroWest supporting a first-of-its-kind integrated mental health referral line.
- Dora Efthim Healing Garden supporting the beautiful, natural and serene garden for patients and their families.
- Miriam Boyd Parlin Hospice Residence supporting an available hospice bed at little or no cost for those who cannot pay.
- MetroWest Free Medical Program supporting free medical care to those who are underinsured.

Percentage of parents who believe that their child’s attendance at Camp Casco helped their child feel good about himself/herself and who would refer other children with cancer to this camp
100%

Healthcare and Hospice Services

| 66% | Percentage of Behavioral Health Partners of MetroWest mental health service referrals that were made on behalf of children |
| 994 | Number of MetroWest Free Medical Program patients who would have accessed the Emergency Room for healthcare or would have gone without healthcare |
| 47% | Percentage of referrals for patients to the Behavioral Health Partners MetroWest made by Primary Care Providers |

Community Support

| $1,500 | The average arrearage subsidy paid by the Family Promise Metrowest LIFE program that helped 22 families with 47 children to stop their evictions, keep their homes and prevent the trauma of homelessness |
| 5,094 | Number of meals provided for Wayland families in need by over 25 volunteers at the Parmenter Food Pantry |
| 35 | Number of parents registered for Why Me, Inc’s Circle of Healing Bereavement Retreat designed to provide peer support for parents whose child has died from cancer |
| 3 | Number of years that it has taken Family Promise Metrowest to plan and construct their Bacon Street home, a duplex that now houses two families that have graduated from the shelter program and are pursuing higher education |
In 2019, we seized the opportunity to fund two new inspiring programs that support children diagnosed with cancer and their families. 15,780 children in the U.S. are diagnosed with cancer each year. Childhood cancer can abruptly end childhood by stealing the carefree moments like soccer games, dance recitals and time with friends; replacing them instead with chemotherapy, surgery and endless medical appointments. Camp Casco recognizes the overwhelming physical and psychosocial impact on children diagnosed with cancer and provides a camp for them and their families at no cost. Camp Casco sought funding to provide year-round support to its campers and their families. Also supporting families with a childhood cancer diagnosis, Why Me, Inc. provides families with continuous support from the time of their child’s pediatric cancer diagnosis through recovery and sometimes loss. Why Me, Inc. sought funding for its Circle of Healing Bereavement Retreat for parents whose child(ren) have passed away from cancer.

Camp Casco provides children with a camp experience focused on reducing anxiety, improving self-image, increasing independence and building social skills. Offering both a free weeklong day camp in Wellesley, MA and a free weeklong overnight camp in Yarmouth Port, MA for children ages five to seventeen, Camp Casco had 46 campers last summer and has served children from all over New England for the past five years.

“The struggle with childhood cancer doesn’t end when treatment does, and families of survivors will continue to cope with the long-term challenges cancer creates. It’s so important that children who have been diagnosed with cancer and their families have the opportunity to create bonds with others who have been through similar experiences, creating peer support networks,” emphasizes Erin Fletcher Stern, Chief Executive Officer, Camp Casco. “By funding our camps, The Parmenter Foundation provides a much-needed resource for childhood cancer survivors - emotional support for the long haul.”

Why Me, Inc. located in Worcester, MA offers families with a child diagnosed with cancer lasting, tangible support services through all stages of their child’s cancer journey including diagnosis, active treatment, maintenance, remission and bereavement. “Our goal is to stand beside our families throughout each of their journeys and work to maintain balance and restore harmony in every life we touch,” states David Hagan, Executive Director and father of three sons, one of whom passed away from cancer. The Circle of Healing Bereavement Retreat is vital because it allows parents to explore their grief experience more fully without having to hold back. It gives parents the opportunity to learn, share, support and heal with one another. “The power of a shared common experience transcends superficial differences and creates lasting bonds of friendship. Parents continue to find this experience uniquely helpful in their bereavement journey,” adds Hagan.

We are thrilled to partner with programs that are there for our neighbors during their times of need and continue to help them build resiliency for the future. Welcome aboard!
The grassroots community-based programs that we support are making MetroWest a better place to live, work and play. Below is a snapshot of each of our high-impact grantee programs from 2019. As they say, a picture is worth a thousand words.

At Behavioral Health Partners of MetroWest, a care coordinator speaks with a caller, listens to their concerns, and connects them to services that are tailored to fit their unique needs.

A Camper and her Big Buddy pose together at Camp Erin Boston 2019. Every camper at Camp Erin Boston has a “Big Buddy” – trained volunteers who serve as one-to-one mentors for campers during the camp weekend.

The Dora Eftihim Healing Garden is a natural and serene garden for Miriam Boyd Parlin Hospice Residence patients and their families to find peace and hope.

Family Promise Metrowest celebrates the opening of its first affordable, transitional living house, which will now be home to two single mothers and their children. Both mothers are enrolled in higher education programs – a critical component of FPM’s transitional living program.

The Parmenter Food Pantry shines during the holidays with community members donating gifts and volunteers distributing gifts and food for families in December. Sue Kwan, a food pantry volunteer, is surrounded by donated gifts.

A HEARTplay participant takes part in an expressive arts project. HEARTplay groups use movement, music, art, and play to help participants honor their person and process the many feelings associated with grief.

The Miriam Boyd Parlin Hospice Residence remembers each patient who has passed by displaying their name and lighting a candle in their memory. The light is a reminder to patients, families and staff that providing care for hospice patients is an honor.

For each Tuesday healthcare clinic, volunteers set up privacy spaces for nurses, doctors and translators to meet with patients at the MetroWest Free Medical Program.

Each holiday season a special angel tree is placed at Sherry’s House. This tree holds a personalized gold ribbon for each Why Me child who has passed away from pediatric cancer.

COVID-19 CRISIS FUNDING GRANTS

In this unprecedented and difficult time of COVID-19, we have responded to the needs of our grantees and grassroots community programs that serve our MetroWest neighbors. These programs are in need of financial help as many of their annual fundraisers providing their base funding have been canceled and the demand for their programs have increased. To do our part, we have granted $30,000 in COVID-19 Crisis Funding to six nonprofit organizations. The awarded organizations provide high quality specialized programs that assist individuals and families in times of crisis and help to build strength and resiliency. The programs for which we have provided funding are:

- MetroWest Free Medical Program - supporting the purchase of a telehealth program so they can continue to serve their un/underinsured patients while their healthcare clinics are closed;
- Open Table - supporting a drive-through food pantry and mobile food delivery to meet the needs of the most vulnerable residents in thirteen MetroWest towns;
- Family Promise Metrowest - supporting families in their homelessness prevention LIFE program that works with families coming out of shelter and families that are at risk of losing their homes, many of whom have become unemployed as a result of COVID-19;
- Camp Casco - supporting the Camp Casco Crisis Fund that provides funds directly to families with a child that has been diagnosed with cancer to get through the COVID-19 crisis with food, shelter, and the medical care they require;
- Dignity Matters - supporting the provision of feminine care paper products to women and girls who cannot afford them and for whom their regular distribution places have been closed; and
- Parmenter Food Pantry - supporting a drive-through food pantry and mobile food delivery for Wayland families in need.
